WE SUPPORT SMALL BUSINESS SATURDAY

Small Business Saturday takes place this Saturday, 6 December 2014 and to support the national campaign we are encouraging residents to buy local.

Inside you will find a pull-out full of hidden gems around the borough where you can get your Christmas shopping started and bag yourself some unique gifts! Or why not take a break from shopping and have a bite to eat or drink in the local bars, pubs, restaurants and cafes listed.

Please join us in supporting your local high street and buy local on Saturday 6 December and beyond. Watch out for the Small Business Saturday posters displayed in participating shop fronts.

As part of the wider Waltham Forest is London campaign, and in the run up to Small Business Saturday, we launched the 'Buy It Local' campaign in Waltham Forest last month.

Local businesses worked in partnership with Council officers to support events in six town centres. They participated in treasure trails, showcased their talent and creativity in competitions and donated generous gifts for competition prizes.

A huge "Thank You" to all the businesses that participated and helped make Buy it Local a success.

Support your local shops and buy local!

Town centres celebrated at Buy it Local events

Family events celebrate the wide range of excellent local businesses in Waltham Forest

Shoppers flocked to a series of special 'Buy it Local' events held over two weekends in November, to celebrate Waltham Forest's town centres and the fantastic range of retailers available locally.

The Buy it Local events took place in Highams Park, Leytonstone and Wood Street on Saturday 15 November, and on Saturday 22 November it was over to North Chingford, Leyton and Walthamstow. Each event featured fantastic entertainment for all the family, including live music, children's entertainers, street performers and stilt walkers.

"It was great to see so many local traders and residents getting involved in the Buy it Local events", said Chris Robbins, Leader of the Council. "With Christmas just a few weeks away you can find everything you need in your local town centre, from everyday essentials and independent retailers to produce from around the world."

Local retailers were put to the test with two competitions held during the events. On the first weekend florists were challenged to create a Christmas-themed bouquet that celebrated Waltham Forest. The winning arrangement came from Cogger's Florist in Walthamstow. The following weekend things got tasty as bakeries and coffee shops battled it out in a cupcake bake-off. This time there were joint winners – Oh My... Coffee Shop in Chingford and Aura Rosa in Walthamstow.

The events were held as part of the Waltham Forest IS London campaign, which was created by Waltham Forest Council to celebrate everything that's great about Waltham Forest, and to give the borough's distinct areas a shared sense of identity.

the borough's Cabinet Member for Housing, Cllr Khevyn Limbajee, paid a visit to a development in Flaxen Road – called Verdon Roe Court – which will provide 45 affordable rent homes specially designed for people who can live on their own, but who need some care and support to continue to live independently.

With support from the Council and the Greater London Authority, housing association and social regeneration charity East Thames is creating a housing complex that will provide 24 hour on-site personal support for residents.

The second topping out ceremony – marking the completion of the building's frame – took place in May Road on Monday 10 November.

This development project will create eight supported units for people with mental health issues, one affordable rented house and six shared ownership family homes.

Pipe Major – The Stow Caledonian Pipe Band

I am the Pipe Major of The Stow Caledonian Pipe Band, a traditional Scottish band based in Chingford. We were established in 2011 with the aim of bringing music back into the community, and teaching people from different backgrounds the art of playing bagpipes and drums.

Being in a band gives you the opportunity to learn new skills and meet new people who share the same love of music. You do not need to be Scottish to join, as some people have thought in the past. We welcome all nationalities, which is reflected in the diversity of our current members.

We perform at local events in and around the borough, most recently leading the Remembrance Day parade from Lloyd Park to Waltham Forest Town Hall. We feel very privileged to have taken part in this occasion at the heart of Waltham Forest, bringing the community together.

Other events we have taken part in within the borough include Leytonstone Car Free Day, Higham Hill Park Day, the 'Godiva Awakes' parade and the Olympic and Paralympic Torch Relays. Updates of future events and photographs from some of our previous events are featured on our blog, Twitter and Facebook pages. Next year we are hoping to perform at more local venues to promote the band and drum up some interest. Excuse the pun!

We regularly take part in South East England competitions, winning a shield in our last competition at Colchester. As a band this is the first award we have won during our first three years, so I am very proud of what we have achieved musically. We hope to carry on progressing through competing and look forward to our first competition next season in Broxbourne, Hertfordshire.

The band practices on Tuesdays and Fridays from 7.30pm to 10pm at Wingrove Hall (Beech Hall Road, E4 9NT). New members over the age of 11 are always welcome, and no previous experience is required. We aim to provide you with the best tuition in the area from our team of instructors.

Alternatively, please feel free to come along one evening and have a listen. We are also available to hire for any event whether it be social or corporate, weddings or funerals, birthdays or community gatherings.

In brief

Council Tax Support consultation

Waltham Forest Council is opening a further consultation on proposed changes to its Council Tax Support scheme. The changes are needed due to continued reductions in government funding, which means that the Council faces a funding gap of nearly £3.5million if it were to maintain the current scheme in 2015/16 and 2016/17. The Council consulted on proposed changes earlier this year, however in light of a recent Supreme Court judgment it has decided to produce a further consultation, giving residents the opportunity to provide their views on what changes should be made. Changes will only apply to residents of working age, as the level of support for pensioners is set by law.

• The consultation is open until Monday 5 January 2015. For more information and to complete the survey online visit www.walthamforest.gov.uk/CTScconsultation. Free internet access is available at all libraries in the borough. Printed copies of the survey will be available from the borough's leisure centres and libraries.

Housing Allocations

A consultation has been launched into changes to the policy that governs how Waltham Forest Council allocates social rented housing in the borough. Pressures on housing are greater than ever, and the Council wants to ensure that the scheme meets the needs of residents by focusing on who is eligible and who gets priority on the Housing Register. The consultation will also look at awarding housing priority to applicants who are making a community contribution by working or volunteering, while continuing to recognise the needs of existing social tenants.

• Visit www.walthamforest.gov.uk/housing-allocation-survey to complete the consultation survey before it closes on Sunday 11 January 2015. # The Scene is in business

The Scene at Cleveland Place threw open its doors on Wednesday 19 November for the first time with a VIP event. Guest of honour, Leader of Waltham Forest Council Chris Robbins, gave speeches to welcome the cinema to the borough and introduce a couple of short films produced by local residents.

In the last edition of Waltham Forest News we reported that all the staff who took up the positions at Empire are residents of the borough, and can now exclusively reveal that the vast majority of employees at Nando's and Pizza Express are also from Waltham Forest.

Of the 22 staff employed by Pizza Express, 18 live in the borough, while at Nando's 80 per cent of the current 50 strong team are local residents. Olga Mikulich from Leytonstone has taken up one of the positions at the new Pizza Express.

"I'm really happy to get this job," she told Waltham Forest News. "It's so convenient for me as it is only 12 minutes on the bus and I can drop my son off on the way. It looks so good here now that the cinema and restaurants are open and we have been very busy."

The Council's Business, Employment and Skills team have worked closely with both restaurants to help secure these local jobs for local people. While both Nando's and Pizza Express have their own online portals, the Council's partnership with Jobentre Plus has helped make local residents aware of the opportunities. Information on the vacancies was also made available on the Council's Jobs Bus which has helped hundreds of residents find work from locations across the borough.

The three other restaurants at The Scene are due to open in the New Year, with Caribbean outlet Turtle Bay scheduled to start serving in January. The 121 new homes are already being marketed and a shared ownership (part buy, part rent) scheme allows people with a gross household income of up to £66,000 per annum to purchase the one and two bedroom apartments, and those earning up to £80,000 per annum to purchase a three bed apartment.

4 Priorities

Celebrating our cultural heritage

Waltham Forest Council is working hard to bring you better shopping, streets and leisure opportunities. In this edition we focus on the ongoing efforts to enhance and improve the borough's cultural offering

The Council-run William Morris Gallery was shortlisted for European Museum of the Year in 2014

Whether you're a culture vulture or simply curious about creativity, Waltham Forest has lots of events, attractions and initiatives that have been stirring up excitement among residents of all ages.

They include Council-run exhibition spaces, a busy programme of activities at libraries, an exciting events calendar and an Arts Development Grant scheme through which local people can get funding for creative community projects. The Council works in partnership with local groups and organisations to develop a vibrant and lasting creative offer in Waltham Forest through initiatives like the E17 Art Trail.

William Morris Gallery

The award-winning William Morris Gallery (Lloyd Park, Forest Road, E17 4PP) has been wowing visitors ever since its £5million transformation in 2012. Funded by the Council and the Heritage Lottery Fund, the revamp helped establish the gallery as a world-class destination and international centre of excellence for the study of William Morris. It won the Art Fund prize for Museum of the Year in 2013, was short-listed for European Museum of the Year in 2014 and with Lloyd Park, was nominated in the latest Time Out Love London Awards.

Owned and run by the Council, the Gallery has a packed schedule of events and exhibitions. Current highlights include Rossetti's Obsession, an exhibition of rarely seen artwork depicting Morris' wife Jane by Dante Gabriel Rossetti, and Tangled Yarns – work by Alke Schmidt that explores the politics and morality of the cotton trade.

The Gallery offers much more than art exhibits though. It runs creative workshops for children and families, special late-night opening events, talks, tours, discussions and has an onsite café. There's also a great shop if you're looking for Christmas presents – and sales support the Gallery's free exhibitions and events programme.

Fashion enthusiasts will also be pleased to hear that the Gallery has recently made headlines by collaborating with clothing and accessory chain Jigsaw on an Autumn/Winter collection which is available to buy now.

Vestry House Museum

The picturesque Vestry House Museum (Vestry Road, E17 9NH) presents the history of Waltham Forest through a variety of permanent displays and special exhibitions. Also owned and run by the Council, it is home to an award-winning public garden and houses Waltham Forest Archives and Local Studies Library.

Exhibitions now running at Vestry House include Raids, Rationing and Riots: Waltham Forest and the Great War, to mark the centenary of the First World War, and Celebrating 100 years of the Walthamstow Historical Society. It also runs an exciting programme of family activities, which last month saw it get involved with Explore Your Archive – a national campaign to encourage local people to explore their family histories.

Libraries

At a time when many other councils in London are cutting back their library services, the Council is investing £5million to refurbish and improve Waltham Forest's four main Library Plus buildings at Chingford, Leyton, Leytonstone and Walthamstow.

All of Waltham Forest's libraries offer an exciting programme of activities for residents. Workshops celebrating Black History Month, talks from guest authors, children's story time readings, business advice sessions and film screenings are just some of the events that have been held in recent months. Libraries also offer free internet access.

Events for everyone

The Council runs and hosts a variety of different activities and events for local people in its parks and open spaces. You can also hire Council parks to hold your own event.

Events like the free fireworks, Christmas lunches, Walthamstow Garden Party and Big Weekenders pull in hundreds and thousands of people at key times of the year. And every month, there's a programme of regular activities in parks, including gardening workshops and training courses.

Arts Development Grant

The Council's Arts Development Grants programme, which was launched in October 2013, provides financial support to some of the smaller organisations and creative initiatives in the borough. The next application round is scheduled to open before January 2015.

What you say

Residents tell Waltham Forest News what they think about work to improve access to leisure and cultural activities in the borough

George Duberry, Chingford

"The population is increasing by the day and to be more inclusive the Council needs to show a bit more initiative and get more people of different ethnic backgrounds into the arts. If the Council is at the forefront and encouraging people to come out and speak out then you might have a different level of participation. It's important to celebrate every aspect of the community."

Sevim Martens and Perihan Boyraz, Higham Hill

"There should be more lessons to challenge kids to get involved with the arts – the Council could give them lessons about their own culture but also other cultures. Maybe producing more letters and more leaflets, or putting more information on community websites, would help people know what is available – maybe give schools the information and they can pass it on to parents."

Channelle Campbell, Chingford

"I think there should be more support for out of school projects and community centres. I think when you have just moved to an area it can seem like a foreign place – if there were more community centres and things doing events or activities it would help you get to know your neighbours. I think this is important for the old and the young."

Tom Bloor, Walthamstow

"I think over the past 30 years or so the borough has definitely become more culturally vibrant and there's a good range of the arts on offer. But these are difficult times for artists and I feel any help they can get needs to be given to them. It's a very important part of the place that you live to have a strong cultural element – it's important for bringing people to the borough."

Priority: Bringing you better shopping, streets and leisure

Commitment:

- Work to make our high streets thrive with a variety of shops and services to meet your needs
- Upgrade our pavements and roads
- Bring a cinema to the borough and rebuild or upgrade all of the borough's leisure centres
- Improve every park in the borough

Priority: Making our community a safer place

Priority: Helping you and your family

Priority: Keeping our borough clean

One in six properties in England is at risk of flooding and this is only going to increase with a changing climate. Last winter was the wettest in England for nearly 250 years and around 6,000 properties were flooded. There are three simple steps you can take to help protect your property from flooding: use the Environment Agency's maps to find out if you are at risk from flooding; sign up for free flood warnings for your area and prepare a personal flood plan.

Women's Tai Chi Corner

Female residents looking for a gentle way to start exercising might be interested in finding out more about new Women's Tai Chi Corner sessions in Lloyd Park, Walthamstow. The sessions are for women only, are led by a female instructor and take place every Saturday, from 3 to 4pm. The class is taught indoors at the Community Room in the Aveling Centre (Lloyd Park, E17 5JW). Entry costs £3 per session, and there is also an annual fee if you plan to attend long-term. Why not take advantage of free parking and shop local this Christmas?

Helping you shop local this Christmas

- Council relaxes parking charges to encourage Christmas shoppers
- Free parking for two hours on Saturdays and from 3pm in the week

"We want to encourage as many residents as possible to do their Christmas shopping in local shops on the many excellent High Streets we have all over the borough," said Cllr Clyde Loakes, Deputy Leader and Cabinet Member for Environment.

"Whether you walk, cycle, go by public transport or drive – get down to your local high street in the build up to Christmas and spend your money locally. Last year we spent £9million on improving High Streets in the borough, so check out what's on offer just around the corner from you and elsewhere in the borough – I think you'll be pleasantly surprised."

To back up his plea for local people to shop locally, Cllr Loakes has recently announced that Christmas parking arrangements this year will be more generous than ever before. By easing the cost of parking, those people who need to drive will find the borough's high streets even more convenient retail destinations. And with plenty of free cycle parking across the borough and plans to create more, getting to your local high street by bike should also be easy.

"Whether you walk, cycle, go by public transport or drive, spend your money locally."

The beauty of local high streets is that hopefully you can get to them easily without having to drive, but for those people set on picking up a 20lb turkey or a six foot Christmas tree, the car might come in handy.

There will be two hours free parking in all of the Council's town centre car parks during every weekend of December. Monday to Friday there will also be free parking in council car parks from 3pm onwards, rather than from 5pm.

The car parks included in the scheme are Bedford Road, E17, Brandon Road E17, Church Lane E11, Hall Lane E4, High Street E17, Linford Road E17, Mission Grove E17, Richmond Road E4, South borough. And 15 minute parking rules make it easier for drivers to stop off quickly to get something last minute in our high streets. So at any time of the year a loaf of bread, a pint of milk, some dry cleaning and the like can easily be collected without having to use a car park or get a voucher.

At Christmas it is particularly convenient for anyone looking to pick up those last minute bits and pieces. When you realise you've run out of wrapping paper, or forgotten the mince pies or find the cranberry sauce went off in July, simply zip down to your local high street to remedy the emergency and then get back to your yuletide preparations.

Grove E17 and Stanley Road E10.

There will also be no parking enforcement taking place on Bank Holidays and no vehicle removals on Christmas Eve and New Year's Eve after 12.30pm.

Throughout the year, the Council tries to support local businesses by encouraging residents to shop locally. The Mini Holland scheme will make it easier and safer for cyclists and pedestrians to get to shops and key parts of the

Licences lost in crackdown

- Joint operation exposes off-licences with stocks of illicit alcohol and tobacco
- Council's Licensing Committee revokes one licence and suspends another

Two businesses had their licences reviewed after illicit cigarettes and alcohol were found on the premises

Two Walthamstow businesses have had their licences reviewed, after a stock of cigarettes and alcohol was found to be either counterfeit or without any UK tax paid on it. The news comes after a hearing of Waltham Forest Council's Licensing Committee last month.

In a joint operation with officers from Her Majesty's Revenue and Customs (HMRC), Council licensing officers found 22,520 cigarettes with foreign health warnings and 11.25 litres of illicit spirits at E17 Food and Wine located at 168 Hoe Street, Walthamstow.

A further 95.25 litres of wine, 14,080 cigarettes and 0.9kg of hand rolling tobacco were seized from E17 Supermarket at 97 Higham Hill Road, Walthamstow.

"Alcohol duty fraud costs the UK taxpayer £1.2bn a year and cigarette duty fraud a further £1.9bn," said Cllr Clyde Loakes, Deputy Leader and Cabinet Member for Environment. "Much of this fraud is perpetrated by organised criminal gangs and we simply won't stand for this sort of thing in Waltham Forest.

"We are actively seeking out those businesses playing fast and loose with the wellbeing of our residents, and as these licence holders are now aware, we will find you and we will take meaningful action."

Counterfeit alcohol products are often produced using cheaper types of alcohol, including chemicals used in cleaning fluids, nail polish remover and screen wash. Methanol and isopropanol, which are used in anti-freeze and some fuels, can have serious adverse effects on health and have been known to cause blindness and in extreme cases, death.

Counterfeit cigarettes can also contain far higher levels of the toxic substances found in genuine cigarettes, but have also been found to contain excrement, asbestos, mould and dead insects.

The Council's Licensing

Committee decided that the licence in respect of E17 Food and Wine should be suspended for three months and that conditions be attached to the future use of the licence. In respect of E17 Supermarket, the Committee decided that the licence should be revoked.

Both licence holders have a right of appeal against the decision of the Committee to Magistrates' Court.

These are two of four licences to be reviewed this year by the Council due to the sale of illicit alcohol and cigarettes with a further application yet to be determined. So far all of the licences have been revoked, with the exception of E17 Food and Wine.

Wood Street Walls

A local artistic group called Wood Street Walls have completed their latest mural on the hoardings on the Ravenswood Industrial site on Sernall Street, Walthamstow. The group aims to bring a new creative hub to Wood Street providing free workshops to the local community. Inspired by the impact of Wynwood Walls in Miami, and the Bushwick Collective in Brooklyn, Wood Street Walls hopes to increase custom in Wood Street and beyond by attracting more visitors to the area and thus boost local trade.

Winners of the Salaam Peace Eid Cup 2014

Promoting respect of all

- Leytonstone-based project Salaam Peace promotes unity, respect and tolerance
- Community organisation offers educational courses, homework clubs, mentoring programmes and sports-based activities for residents of all ages

A community engagement project that began in Leytonstone in 2009 has been going from strength to strength in recent years, with numerous awards presented to its members, funding for local projects secured from international banks and a string of success stories under its belt.

Salaam Peace, based in Belgrave Road, was set up by resident Sab Bham. The precursor to the project was the Eid Cup – a five a side football tournament held in Waltham Forest in the wake of the 7/7 London bombings.

Sab told Waltham Forest News: “After the bombings, I wanted to do something with the aim of changing negative perceptions of British Muslims.

“I also wanted to show that the way to stop fear of the unknown is to encourage people of different faiths and backgrounds to get together, have fun and celebrate the similarities we share.

“As I’ve been leading football projects since I was 14 years old, it seemed logical to start with a tournament that could involve people from all backgrounds.”

The first Eid Cup took place in 2006 with 32 teams competing for the honour of winning the inaugural trophy.

Sab said: “The day proved to be a huge success, with hundreds of people coming from around the country to take part. The tournament was open to all faiths, and the aim was to bring people together and show that the similarities we share as human beings are more important than the differences.

“Salaam Peace was born and we’ve been working hard ever since. Although we have evolved into a much larger community engagement project, the success and popularity of our sporting events mean that initiatives such as the Eid Cup will always be our flagship events.”

As well as hosting sporting projects that aim to keep young people engaged in positive activities, Salaam Peace offers a number of educational services for children, those in further education and those who aspire to be.

Every weekend Salaam Peace offers a two-hour homework club for young people aged 11 to 19 at venues around the borough. The club offers help with a range of school and college work, and gives access to computers and a tutor. Young people can bring along their homework and are given support to develop their skills and knowledge.

Salaam Peace also participates in The Positive Routes project, which aims to engage young people through activities, develop relationships through positive local role models and offering pathways into volunteering, training, education and employment. In the last two years, over 160 young people from Waltham Forest have taken part.

Sab himself is no stranger to success. In December 2012, he won the BBC Sports ‘Unsung Hero’ award for London. He was one of three regional award winners who attended the BBC Sports Personality of the Year award and was in contention to be named National Unsung Hero 2012.

And in last month’s Waltham Forest Sports Awards, which are organised by Waltham Forest Council, two awards went to members of Salaam Peace. Sab won the award for Outstanding Services to Sport, while Azi Mohammed was named Young Sports Leader/Volunteer of the Year under 16.

Salaam Peace will host a Christmas Cup football competition in the shadow of the Olympic Stadium, at The Copperbox Arena on Saturday 6 December. Eighteen teams will battle it out to win the Christmas Cup. Six of the teams competing are based in Waltham Forest, while the remainder come from around the UK.

And the future for Salaam Peace continues to look bright, with funding for two projects secured from Lloyds Bank and Deutsche Bank.

In brief

Barts Christmas Appeal

Residents are being asked to ‘send a smile with Santa’ this Christmas, by taking part in Barts Health NHS Trust’s Christmas Charity Appeal. The campaign, which is organised by Barts Charity, calls on local people and businesses to donate 600 gifts so that every child who is too poorly to leave hospital over Christmas will wake up to a present from Santa on 25 December. Gifts are required for children of all ages, ranging from babies to 16 year olds, for children cared for at Newham, Whipps Cross and The Royal London hospitals. To help turn hospital wards into winter wonderlands, Barts Charity is also asking for donations of decorations and artificial Christmas trees, as well as wrapping paper. The charity asks that all gifts are new, unused and unwrapped so that they can be checked for safety and suitability. They are particularly keen to receive presents for children with additional needs, for example sensory toys that light up or play music. Toys must be received by Friday 12 December.

• To arrange a donation, phone Ellie on 020 7618 1721 or email eleanor.francis@bartshealth.nhs.uk. You can also donate money by visiting www.bartscharity.org.uk/donate.

Your Christmas stories

In the Monday 22 December edition of Waltham Forest News, we will bring you important information about when Council services will be operating over the festive period. But it’s not all re-scheduled bin collections, as we also want to bring you news of what has been happening in the borough to get everyone in the Christmas spirit. Perhaps your community group organised a Christmas Bazaar to raise money for charity, or your choir sang Christmas Carols to older residents living in sheltered accommodation? Or maybe your child’s school put on a traditional (or not so traditional) Christmas play? If you’ve got an interesting story to tell, or fun photographs to share, we want to hear from you. Simply email your festive photos and stories to us no later than Monday 15 December and we will try to include you in the 22 December edition of Waltham Forest News. Photos must be high resolution to be suitable for print, please note inclusion cannot be guaranteed.

• Email your stories and digital photos to walthamforestnews@walthamforest.gov.uk. Free internet access is available at all libraries in the borough.

YES you can

Most food and garden waste can be recycled

Just some of the items you can put in your brown bin

Fruit, vegetables and all food scraps

Tea bags and coffee granules

Garden waste – grass, leaves and flowers

Bread and cakes

Pasta and rice

The less food we waste, the better. But there are always going to be food items that we'll never eat, like egg shells, fruit and vegetable peelings, banana skins and tea bags. Use your kitchen caddy to collect these, then empty this into your larger brown bin.

"Don't forget to add 'compostable' caddy liners to your shopping list"

Helping young people choose the right path

- Waltham Forest teenager has turned his life around after troubled childhood
- Council-backed group is helping 18-year-old inspire young people

A teenager from Waltham Forest who has turned his life around to avoid being on the wrong side of the law is now on a mission to help other young people make the right choices in life.

Before his 18th birthday, Danial William had survived being stabbed, came close to getting shot and had been in trouble with the police. But after discovering a community fitness project and getting involved with a Council-backed initiative for young people, Danial realised he had opportunities to take his life down a positive path.

Describing his childhood environment as "really rough", Danial said he quickly developed a negative mind-set and started hanging around with "the wrong crowd". Between the ages of 15 and 17, he was involved in a number of serious incidents – most notably being stabbed when he was 16.

However, Danial told Waltham Forest News that everything began to change for the better after he discovered borough-based Power Up Community Fitness, which runs 'street-styled' workouts using outdoor gyms based in parks and playgrounds.

He said: "I got really passionate about it; it was a good way to channel that negativity. Grabbing hold of that pull up bar I didn't need to think of anything else, it cleared my mind."

And it was through Power Up that Danial got involved with Waltham Forest's Youth Independent Advisory Group (YIAG) – a group of young people, some of whom are ex-offenders, victims of crime or come from areas where youth violence is a part of their lives.

The YIAG takes an interest in community safety issues and members are trained as 'peer mentors' in conflict resolution – they run regular sessions at schools, Pupil Referral Units and the Youth Offending Service and also engage with the police on how they deal with young people.

Danial William says a community fitness programme helped him start to turn his life around

Danial said: "It's about creating opportunities for young people and showing them a way out. I now get the opportunity to go into probation sessions and share my experiences with young people and show them there's a way out of this and that we can break this cycle."

Taking those first steps towards changing the direction his life was going in were, according to Danial, "the hardest thing I've ever done" – but since joining the YIAG he has not looked back. "So many positive opportunities started coming my way from filling in one simple application form," he said.

Along with a friend from the YIAG, Danial recently helped make a film for national charity Fixers that highlights circumstances through which young people can be drawn into criminal activity – and encourages their peers to avoid it. Earlier this month, their hard work paid off when the film was featured on ITV news.

And, last week Danial embarked on his latest challenge – a three month trip to Lamjung in Nepal to work on a community development project with the Voluntary Support Overseas (VSO) programme.

He said: "I want to be that positive influence I never had. Not having that role model to look towards and say 'I want to be like him', I want to be that for other young people."

"I would say to them 'you cannot give up'. A hundred and one times – even on recent occasions – I've felt like giving up but if you can find that energy to keep going and push yourself, the rewards that come from making that change are endless and it can only turn your life into something positive."

In brief

Urussa Khan, 17, trekked Kilimanjaro for charity

Teen in Kilimanjaro trek

A teenager from Leyton raised nearly £4,000 for the Teenage Cancer Trust by trekking Mount Kilimanjaro earlier this year. 17-year-old Urussa Khan was joined by her father for the epic expedition in June. Urussa was inspired to raise money for the Teenage Cancer Trust, after her younger brother Fardeen was diagnosed with osteosarcoma, a rare form of bone cancer, in October 2013. Urussa would like to thank the schools, friends and family who helped her raise the final figure of £3,904 for the charity. This is not the first time Urussa has raised money for a good cause; in 2012 she made a donation of almost £850 to Great Ormond Street Hospital after organising a number of fundraising activities with her school (Connaught School for Girls).

BENEFIT CHANGES

HAVE YOUR SAY ON PROPOSED CHANGES TO THE LOCAL COUNCIL TAX SUPPORT SCHEME

We are consulting again on proposals to change how the current Local Council Tax Support Scheme works, and we'd like to know your views.

Complete the survey online by Monday 5 January 2015.

Why are you consulting with residents again?

Over the summer, we asked for your views on proposals to change the current Council Tax Support Scheme. In light of a recent Supreme Court judgement on another local authority's consultation, the Council has decided to consult with residents again.

We want to ensure that residents clearly understand the options available to the Council to fund the scheme, why the Council is proposing particular changes and reasons why we do not favour alternative options, including maintaining the current scheme.

Why are changes being made to the scheme?

The Council has identified a funding gap of nearly £3.5million between the cost of maintaining the current Council Tax Support Scheme and the grant from Government in the period 2015/2016 and 2016/2017.

The Council can make necessary savings by reducing the amount of Council Tax support available, and requiring all working age residents eligible to receive Council Tax Support to pay more of their Council Tax. Currently, working age residents receiving Council Tax Support are required to pay at least 15% of their Council Tax.

Alternatively, the Council could look to fund the scheme in other ways which are less preferred, including raising Council Tax or cutting local services.

There are several options for how the new scheme may look and how the changes could be funded.

To find out more about these options and complete the survey online

Wearing the White Ribbon

- Recognition for Waltham Forest's work to end violence against women and girls
- Borough in midst of awareness-raising campaign targeting gender-based abuse

Organisations across Waltham Forest are uniting as part of a Council-led campaign designed to help tackle and raise awareness of all forms of violence against women and girls.

Starting on Tuesday 25 November, the borough began hosting a series of activities – including information events, talks and public question and answer sessions – that have been dubbed ‘16 Days of Activism’.

The initiative was launched after Waltham Forest was officially awarded White Ribbon status – an accreditation that formally recognises the work carried out by the Council and local partners, including Waltham Forest Police and Leyton Orient Football Club, to raise awareness about gender-based violence and abuse and encourage members of the community to take a stand against it.

Chris Green, the CEO of national charity White Ribbon Campaign (WRC) UK, paid a visit to the Town Hall last month to present a framed certificate to the borough to mark the accreditation award.

He said: “WRC would like to commend the outstanding work and commitment of Waltham Forest staff who have made this award possible.

“Also the support of Leyton Orient FC has made it possible to reach out to men who might not otherwise receive the message and support to challenge male violence.

“Silence is not an option - silence excuses violence against women. When some men start to challenge male violence, we realise that there are thousands of men out there willing to support us and to do the same.”

As part of 16 Days of Activism, the White Ribbon logo, the official symbol of the global campaign to end violence against women and girls, will feature on the sides of all of the London Fire Brigade's engines in the borough and on Saturday 13 December, Leyton Orient FC's first team players will wear White Ribbon t-shirts prior to their home game against Peterborough.

There will also be a short campaign video featuring Leyton

Cllr Karen Bellamy and Cllr Liaquat Ali MBE JP met with Chris Green

Orient players uploaded to the club's, Council's and White Ribbon's websites, along with YouTube.

Finally, the 16-day initiative will end with a public Q&A session, where residents and businesses will be able to question Junior Cabinet Member, Cllr Karen Bellamy, Borough Commander for Waltham Forest, Chief Superintendent Mark Collins and representatives from health and education about the work being done to combat all forms of violence and abuse. The free-to-attend event takes place on Tuesday 9 December at Waltham Forest Council Chambers (Town Hall, Forest Road, E17 4JF) from 6pm to 8pm.

Cllr Liaquat Ali MBE JP, Cabinet Member for Community Safety and Cohesion, said: “We want to send a clear message that violence and abuse – whatever form it takes – cannot be condoned.

“We're proud to support the White Ribbon Campaign and hope that the activities and events we have planned in the weeks ahead will encourage local people to show their support and help bring an end to gender-based violence.”

Howard Gould, Community Liaison Officer for Leyton Orient FC, said: “Leyton Orient Football Club are pleased to be working in partnership with Waltham Forest Council to raise awareness and support the campaign to tackle violence against women and girls. The staff and players are fully behind it and urge all supporters to be vigilant and help eradicate the problem.”

The White Ribbon Campaign was originally set up by a group of men in Canada in 1991, and the Council has set up its own anti-Violence Against Women and Girls pledge. Since November last year, hundreds of local men have signed the pledge to demonstrate that they will “never commit, condone or remain silent about violence against women”.

Keep Warm, Keep Well

With the cold weather starting to bite, the government has issued guidance on how to stay warm and well during winter. Very cold weather can pose a serious health risk to the very young, very old or those with health problems. Public Health England advises people to draw their curtains and keep doors closed to reduce drafts and keep heat in. They should also have at least one hot meal a day, drink plenty of hot drinks and wear several layers of light clothing rather than one coat or jumper. If you have an elderly or vulnerable friend, neighbour or relative who you think might be at risk please keep an eye on them or, better still, invite them round for supper and a cuppa.

Crime prevention

Residents are being given top tips from Waltham Forest Police about maintaining their personal safety and belongings now that daylight hours have reduced. Advice includes leaving a light on when you go out, ensuring your hedges are trimmed back and checking outdoor lighting is working so that a potential burglar has little chance of finding cover. Residents are also reminded to ensure their home's doors and windows are locked – as well as those in their outbuildings and cars. The Metropolitan Police Service has launched an anti-burglary campaign, Operation Bumblebee, which features increased patrols and proactive teams working to locate burglary suspects. Other tips from the police cover hazardous weather situations, such as taking care and allowing extra time when driving and sticking to well-lit and populated areas if on foot.

Waltham Forest School Admission Arrangements 2016/17 consultation

In accordance with the Education (Determination of Admission Arrangements) (England) Regulations 2012, admission authorities are required to determine their admission arrangements each year. London Borough Waltham Forest is the admission authority for all community and voluntary controlled schools within the borough.

Admission arrangements are the overall procedure, practices and oversubscription criteria used in deciding the allocation of school places. The admission arrangements for all schools must be determined by 15 April in the year prior to the academic year to which they are relevant. For the academic year 2016/17, all admission arrangements must be determined by 15 April 2015.

It is a requirement that any proposed changes to admission arrangements are consulted on. Currently London Borough Waltham Forest coordinates all in-year admissions for community schools, voluntary controlled schools, academies, including free schools, voluntary aided and foundation schools within the borough.

The Federation of St. Mary's and St. Saviour's Church of England Primary Schools have opted to conduct their own in-year admissions from 2016/17. The consultation, which will be published on the Waltham Forest Council website proposes that London Borough Waltham Forest coordinates all in-year admissions for all schools as previously listed with the exception of St. Mary's and St. Saviour's Church of England Primary Schools. The consultation period is from 1 December 2014 to 25 January 2015. Responses can be sent to Rhona.long@walthamforest.gov.uk.

The Federation of St. Mary's and St. Saviour's Church of England Primary Schools will conduct their own consultation in advance of determining their admission arrangement by 15 April 2015.

Could your family support a foster child? Foster Extraordinary young people...

Danny is 15 and came into care at the age of ten as his parents were no longer able to care for him.

“Being in care was really hard at first but now I realise how kind my foster carers Karen and Duane were to me and my little brother Charley. They gave me stability which made me understand how chaotic everything had been at home.

“We still see our parents but being in foster care has been really good. Karen helps me with my school work and Duane encouraged me to start playing football again. I try teaching my little brother to play but he just falls over and laughs. Charley tries to teach me Nintendo DS as he’s on a much higher level than me already! I miss my parents but being with Karen and Duane has been wicked.”

Could your family support a foster child?

In Waltham Forest we believe that all kinds of people, no matter their background, can make a positive difference to a child’s life.

POP UP SHOP PROGRAMME

Following on from the success of the first round of pop ups; budding entrepreneurs, community groups and local artists are again being encouraged to apply for an exciting opportunity to occupy a retail unit rent and rate free.

Waltham Forest Council has re-launched the pop-up initiative to support start-up businesses and community innovators by providing space for them to test their ideas on the market, as well as offer interesting new concepts to shoppers on the high street. The pop up at Central Parade in Walthamstow town centre is proving very popular once again.

We currently have availability for 76 Old Church Road, Chingford as a pop up unit. The Council are looking for a range of proposals that will offer something unique and interesting to the high street. Applicants can request the unit for up to 6 weeks to create an on-going series of 'pop-up' uses. The project will run until the end of May 2015.

For more information and to apply visit <http://www.walthamforest.gov.uk/bes> or email business.support@walthamforest.gov.uk
